

T4L

Top tech activities to welcome your students back to the classroom from the Technology 4 Learning team

<https://t4l.link/filmmaker>

Student Filmmaker

The Student Filmmaker course enabled my students to learn how to demonstrate their learning in a whole new way, Spielberg - watch out!

- Eric

T4L Kids TV

I've been searching for a way to empower my students to grow their technology skills. With T4L Kids TV my students can explore, learn and then share the bite-sized videos made just for them!

- Jarrod

<https://t4l.link/kidsTV>

stem.T4L

<https://t4l.link/stem>

Have a stem.T4L kit in your school this term? Make sure you have completed the new Learning on Demand course to get the most out of your kit!

If you don't have a kit - have a look at what's available and discover how to book! Let's get ready for 2022!

Head to the stem.t4l Learning Library for more support and ideas!

T4L Kids magazine

I've been struggling to think about how to connect digital skills like game design and 3D design in my classroom... T4L Kids provides fantastic curriculum-connected challenges and step-by-step tech guides.

- Darren

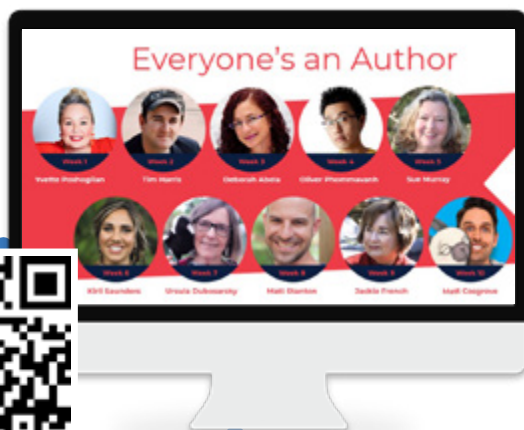

<https://t4l.link/kids>

Everyone's An Author

With digital writing tips from amazing Australian authors, learning journals to guide student development, EAA is now my go-to way to teach dialogue, poetry and so much more!

- Aimee

<https://t4l.link/EAA>

Totally Tech

Participating in these incursions really inspired my students. The expert and engaging videos started the experience and the connected activities provide ongoing gold.

-Tanya

<https://t4l.link/totallytech>